1.3 About Thrissur

Thrissur, the term Thrissur is the abbreviated anglicized form of the Malayalam word “THRISSIVA PERUR” which means the town of the “SACRED SIVA”. The town is built on an elevated ground, at the apex of which is the famous “VADAKKUMNATHAN” Temple, a place of great antiquity. Thrissur District in the present form was formed on July 1, 1949, with the headquarters at Thrissur City. Thrissur is known as the cultural capital of Kerala, and the land of Poorams. The district is famous for its ancient temples, churches and mosques. Thrissur Pooram is the most colourful and spectacular temple festival in Kerala.

1.4 Kerala Institute of Local Administration (KILA)

Kerala Institute of Local Administration (KILA), an autonomous training, research and consultancy organisation constituted under the Ministry of Local Self-Government, Government of Kerala. KILA, located at Mulamkunnathukavu in the district of Thrissur is a unique institute with exclusive focus on local governance and development. The Institute began its operation in 1990, in the pattern of national institute, with the main objective of strengthening decentralisation and local governance. KILA's prime task was to equip the ERs and staff of the local bodies who were not at all exposed to the local governance concept and administration, with up-to-date knowledge and skill in governance and establishment matters. Now it is engaged in institutionalizing the process of decentralisation and to make the local government system strong and sustainable. The institute disseminates the insight of research and recommendations of its various training programmes and workshops through a number of publications. It is the only institution focusing on the capacity building of both rural and urban local governments in Kerala.

There are several special features which have contributed to the outstanding performance of KILA. Though a fully owned government institution, it has had a real autonomy in setting its agenda and conducting training programmes. It has been closely associated with system development and policy formulation in respect to decentralisation. KILA has been enabled to forge a strong network with experts and activists and this pool of committed individuals has enriched the academic quality of KILA. One of the outstanding features evolving with KILA is that the Government of India is delegating the responsibility of state level adaptation of Rajiv Gandhi Panchayath Shasakthikaran Abhiyan (RGPSA) and Sansad Adarsh Gram Yojana (SAGY). The concept of Sevagram or ward level resource centre to strengthen gramasabha and grass root level governance is one of the major experiments under operation in the state. Whole task of capacity building associated with this experiment has been done by KILA.

With the setting of Child Resource Centre (CRC) by UNICEF, KILA has emerged as unique centre promoting child rights realisation in Kerala and India. KILA actively collaborates with many national and international agencies like UNICEF, UNDP, and Housing and Urban Development Corporation (HUDCO) with a motive of deepening local governance. KILA collaborates with the Sri Lanka Institute of Local Governance and All India Institute of Local Self Governments Mumbai, to conduct international course on decentralised governance and poverty alleviation. As a lead institution for capacity building for local governments in the country, KILA not only facilitates training for the state of Kerala but also extends its support for other states in India as well as delegates from SAARC nations in training and discourse on Decentralisation.

1.5 Child Resource Centre (CRC)

(UNICEF supported resource support centre for effective child-centric governance in Kerala)

Child Resource Centre (CRC) is one of the first institutions of these kind established at KILA with the support of UNICEF. The overall objective of CRC is to provide resource support and training for effective child-centric governance in Kerala. The major activities of the centre include organizing training programmes, setting up of on-line repository on child governance, research and assessment studies, formation of consortium of stakeholders engaged in child governance and policy advocacy.

The resource centre facilitates Local Governments to design and implement Comprehensive Child Development Programmes. Comprehensive Child Development Programme (CCDP) is a policy based approach that focuses on inclusive child care through their physical, mental and social development. CCDP reliance on need based interventions according to children's developmental stages and service delivery to work towards the four pillars of their rights. To makes these rights real there is need to provide children with various services throughout the stages of lifecycle.

Child Friendly Local Governance is the way forward to entitle and ensure all the critical needs of children which safeguards and provides them a violence- free and safe environment.

Objectives of CRC :

- To provide a platform for various actors involved in child development
- To develop repository of knowledge on all governance issues around children.
- To facilitate policy development keeping in view of the second generation issues affecting children.
- To document and share the best practices of the Local Governments relating to child governance with national and international community

Envisaged activities of CRC

1. Training and Advocacy Programmes

One of the major activities of CRC is training programmes for various stakeholders engaged in child governance. A capacity development response strategy for addressing the second generation issues of children of Kerala is also included under the training. The core target audience for the Capacity Development Programmes will be

- i. Local government functionaries. (Both Elected and officials)
- ii. Development partners and civil society groups involved in child governance.

There are several development partners viz: civil society groups, researchers, academic communities, NGOs, media, corporate bodies, judiciary etc. They need to be informed with various aspects of child governance. In order to plan and design comprehensive programmes for child development as well as Child friendly local governance, there is the necessity to bring together all key stakeholders working within local government and across the state.

2. Online Repository on Child Governance (www.crckila.org)

Online Repository is a virtual library for governance issues related to children. This is a virtual library that will serve as a reference point for all governance issues around children. CRC has an exclusive website to provide opportunities for sharing information among various stakeholders. There is the need to pool together the knowledge related to child governance. It is expected that the virtual library will pool together experts and advocates for better child governance

3. Documentation and Publications

Following activities are being carried out as part of this.

- Collection and collation of resources viz : publications, research studies
- Special emphasis will be given for collecting information on second generation development issues affecting the children of Kerala.
- Publication of FAQs in child development and local governance
- Publication of Service Information Directory and Project Ideas on CCDP
- Publication of Right based Operational manual and guidelines for implementing CFLG

4. Research and Assessment Studies

Action research and operational research, impact assessment studies have been carried out. As part of promoting research programmes on child governance, Researcher's workshop will be organized. An incentive system will be evolved to promote young researchers willing to undertake research programmes at the level of Post Graduation, M.Phil and Ph.D. The centre will organise Child Status Studies and will disseminate the knowledge of research studies.

5. Consortium (platform) of Relevant Actors

There are several actors involved in child governance viz: State Government, local government and non-government agencies. CRC will involve and get the support of individuals and institutions working for child governance through state and regional level consortiums. CRC will provide a common platform for child activists, NGOs, researchers, media, judiciary, corporate and other professional organizations to network and partner for better child governance. The key objectives of such platforms are:

- To network with organizations working in the field of child governance for exchanging views
- To mainstream activities of various agencies for better child governance
- To explore the possibilities of mutual support from development oriented organization.
- To plan and implement activities of common interest among actors of child governance

6. Policy Advocacy

As part of policy advocacy the centre will have following key functions

- Collect, store, compile and report local government level practices and service delivery data
- Carry out a policy advisory function providing independent analysis on the performance of local governments in the child governance sector
- Provide ongoing policy advice to Govt. of Kerala and local governments
- Organise policy workshops and consultative discussions on child governance issues keeping on the best interest of children.
- Undertake policy level advocacy in association with relevant actors.
- Evolve policy guidelines in specific topics/areas
- Media Analysis

7. Child Friendly Local Governance (CFLG)

KILA-CRC after developing the CCDP manual and training programs conducted a quick feedback exercise through which five panchayats and one municipality were identified as pilot projects for Child Friendly Local Governance. A draft Operational Manual(OM) and guidance note on four areas of child rights were prepared. Each OM has four to seven domains to be intervened by the local government effectively so as to achieve the child friendly status. Under each domain 5-10 strategies are incorporated against which monitoring indicators are given. The local governments were asked to decide their own objectives and targets using the indicator based monitoring tools. All the six LSGIs are now planning, budgeting child friendly activities and determined to develop their Local Government as “child friendly”. After the initial pilot training, 94 new Panchayats from northern districts were given CFLG training and some of them are resolving to have child friendly interventions.

The ultimate beneficiaries of this Resource Centre will be children of Kerala. The different tiers of Local governments in Kerala – 978 Grama Panchayats, 152 Block Panchayats, 14 District Panchayats, 60 Municipalities and 5 Municipal Corporations will be facilitated to ensure child-centric governance. Resource support will be ensured by CRC to those actors engaged in child governance in Kerala. Child development being a crucial responsibility of local governments of Kerala, the establishment of a child resource centre by UNICEF has enabled KILA to extend specialized services for local governments in child development. This will also enable KILA to equip itself as a centre of excellence in child governance.

Chapter 2

Decentralisation and Local Governance in Kerala

2.1. India – from a two tier to three tier federation

The 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendments (22 December 1992)

The broad objective of the amendment is: Ensuring social justice and Local Economic Development

The 73rd and 74th Amendments to the Constitution of India laid the way for a paradigm shift in the governance system of the country. From a two-tier system of the National and State governments, a new tier was introduced which could be broadly called local government. The major guiding principles followed in this shift were autonomy, powers to take decisions in matters transferred to local governments and devolution of functions, finance and functionaries.

2.2 Salient Features of the Constitutional Amendments

- It provided for the State legislatures making their own laws for establishing Panchayats, Municipalities etc and conferring on them such powers and authority as may be necessary to enable them to function as institutions of self-government.
- A three-tier system was introduced in every State, excluding States having less than two million population
- Local governments are to be established at the village, town and district levels
- It empowers people to elect their representatives in local governments
- Elections to the local governments to be held within six months of the dissolution of a Local government.
- Reservation of seats for women, Scheduled Castes (SC) and Scheduled Tribes (ST)-not less than one third for women and for SC/ST proportional to the population.
- A fixed five year term for all local governments has been fixed
- Local governments has been given power to formulate their own development plans and implement them.
- Local governments will have their own budget, power of taxation and list of items in their jurisdiction.

- State Election Commission to conduct local governments elections.
- Every five years, a State Finance Commission to be constituted to review the financial resources of Panchayat
- Constitution of District Planning Committee (DPC), which prepares a development plan for the district and consolidates the urban and rural local plans.

2.3 Decentralisation in Kerala – Context

Democratic decentralisation and people’s participation is increasingly becoming a subject of discussion considering its importance in social development. Democracy will be more meaningful when it becomes closer to the people. Strengthening of local governments, by means of devolving functions, functionaries and finance is found to be one the effective ways of decentralisation. The key to the success of decentralisation lies in the level of people’s participation. In turn, the effective participation of people depends on the capacity building for equipping people to participate in local level planning, monitoring and implementation. Models are being emerged based on learning-by-doing.

Kerala, the southernmost state in India, has successfully experimented democratic decentralisation and people’s participation in local level planning. After the passage of the 73rd and 74th Amendments to the Constitution, Kerala carried out pioneering reforms and set out on the path of rapid and wide ranging decentralization. The Kerala Panchayati Raj Act and the Kerala Municipality Act, both of which were enacted in 1994 were thoroughly restructured in 1999 incorporating the lessons from experience of the initial years of ‘big bang’ decentralization.

2.4 Key features of Kerala Panchayathi Raj and Municipality Act, 1994

- (1) Definition of Functional Domain: Definition of Functional Domain Kerala is the only State which carved out the functional domain of different Local Governments with a great deal of precision. In areas related to infrastructure and management of public institutions the conventional differentiation is extremely sharp and clear. The functions have been divided into mandatory, general and sector-wise functions.
- (2) Participatory Fora: Grama Sabhas have been given clear rights and responsibilities with absolute powers for identification of functionaries, wide powers for social audit and strong advisory powers for prioritizing developmental needs.
- (3) Supremacy of the Elected Body: The elected Heads of the Local Governments has been declared as the executive authority. The senior most officials of various departments brought under the control of the Local Governments have been declared as ex-officio Secretaries for that subject. The Local Governments have full administrative control including powers of disciplinary action over their own staff as well as staff transferred to it.

(4) Good Governance Features:

- Absolute right to information
- Mandatory publication of Citizen Charter
- Performance Audit system

(5) Autonomy: Autonomy The Panchayati Raj and Municipality Acts were amended to drastically reduce the powers of direct governmental control over Local Governments. While Government can issue general guidelines regarding national and State policies it cannot meddle in day to day affairs or individual decisions. The Government can cancel resolutions of a Local Government only through a process and in consultation with the Ombudsman or Appellate Tribunal according to the subject matter of the resolution. Similarly a Local Government can be dissolved directly by government, only if it fails to pass the budget or if majority of its members have resigned. In all other cases a due process has to be followed by issuing a Memo of charges and the Ombudsman has to be consulted before dissolution takes place. This is a unique feature which does not exist even in Center-State relations.

(6) Powerful Support Institutions:

In order to reduce governmental control and to nurture the growth of institutions of local self government as envisaged in the constitution the Acts provide for creation of institutions to deal with different aspects of local government functioning. They are listed below:

- (i) The State Election Commission: Kerala has the strongest State Election Commission in the country with powers for absolute control over staff on election duty, preparation of voters list, verification of accounts and disqualification of candidates not submitting accounts in time, conduct of elections of the head and vice head of Local Governments as well as to the District Planning Committees, conduct of noconfidence motions and disqualification of defectors.
- (ii) Delimitation Commission: This Delimitation Commission: is an independent body headed by the State Election Commission to carry out delimitation of wards.

- (iii) State Finance Commission (SFC) State Finance Commission (SFC): State Finance Commission (SFC) Kerala has already constituted three State Finance Commissions in 1994, 1999 and 2004 and implemented practically every recommendation in letter and spirit.
 - (iv) District Planning Committee: District Planning Committee Kerala is the only State with active District Planning Committees with functional experience of over 12 years.
 - (v) Ombudsman for Local Governments: This is a high power institution Ombudsman for Local Governments manned by a High Court Judge with vast powers to check malfeasance in Local Governments.
 - (vi) Appellate Tribunals: This is Appellate Tribunals a judicial tribunal set up in the State headquarters with a District Judge as the Tribunal to consider appeals by citizens against decisions of Local Governments taken in exercise of their regulatory functions like issue of licences, grant of permits etc.
 - (vii) State Development Council: This institution set up on the analogy of the National Development Council is headed by the Chief Minister and consists of the entire Cabinet, Leader of Opposition, Vice Chairman of the State Planning Board, the Chief Secretary, Mayors, Presidents of the District Panchayats who are also Chairpersons of District Planning Committees and representatives of other tiers of Local Governments. This institution functions as the forum for discussion of policy and operational issues.
- (7) Reservation: The Kerala Panchayat Raj and the Kerala Municipality Act, reserves 50% of seats for women in all local self-government across Kerala. Half of all the presidentship and positions of Standing Committee Chair Persons in all the tiers of local governments are reserved for women. It is also stipulated that with a minimum of one seat either for scheduled caste or for scheduled tribe in each local government, each of them should have seats reserved for scheduled castes and scheduled tribes in proportion to their population. Of this, half of the seats go to the women from these communities. All these posts are reserved on a rotation basis for every five years.

2.5. Local Government System in Kerala

- The State of Kerala is divided into 14 revenue districts.
- Urban areas like towns and cities have Municipalities and Corporations respectively as the local government.

- The District Panchayats, the district level local government, has jurisdiction over the rural areas of the district.
- The rural area of each district is divided into Blocks with Block Panchayat as the local government unit(intermediary government)
- There are 4 to 16 Block Panchayats in a district depending on the size of population.
- Gram Panchayats are the third and last tier of local governments. Each Block may have three to ten grama panchayat

No.	Local Government	Level	Total Number
1.	Gram Panchayat	Rural Village	978
2.	Block Panchayat	Rural Intermediate	152
3.	District Panchayat	Rural Intermediate	14
4.	Municipality	Urban Town	60
5.	Muni. Corporation	Urban City	5

- There are no hierarchical relations within this system and so each one is autonomous from the other. They function in the framework of the principles of subsidiarity and role clarity.
- Elections to these local governments take place every five years.
- Each local government is divided into wards/constituencies and each of them elects their representative.
- There are 21682 Elected Representatives in the Local Government System in Kerala

Sl. No.	Local Government	Total No. of Wards	No. of wards in each Local government
			Minimum	Maximum
1.	Grama Panchayats	16680	13	23
2.	Block Panchayat	2095	13	23
3.	District Panchayat	332	16	32
4.	Municipalities	2216	26	52
5.	Municipal Corporations	359	55	100
	Total	21682

2.6 Principles of Decentralisation of Powers

1. Autonomy:

The local self-governments are to be autonomous, functionally, financially, and administratively. The different tiers of local self-governments should be seen as complementary units rather than hierarchically organised.

2 People's Participation:

The functioning of the local self-government should be such that it facilitates maximum direct participation of people in the development process.

3 Accountability:

The elected representative accountability is not to be confined to the periodic electoral verdicts. There should be continuous social auditing of the performance.

4 Transparency:

People should have the right to information regarding every detail of the administration.

5 Subsidiarity:

It means that what can be done best at a particular level should be done at that level and not at higher levels. That entire can optimally done at the lowest level should be reserved to that level. Only the residual should be passed on to the higher levels.

6 Role Clarity:

There should be clarity regarding the roles of each tier in the development process and clear division of functions between the tiers.

7. Uniformity:

There should be uniformity of norms and rules.

8. Complementarity:

The functions of different tiers should not be overlapping, but should be complementary to each other.

2.7. Elections

The elections to Local Governments in Kerala are fought on political lines. Its features include; selection of suitable and 'winnable' candidates by political parties, active campaigns, intense media interest and high voter turnout. At the local government level, the elected representatives elect the President, Vice President and Standing Committee members of the corresponding tier.

2.8 Governance and Committee System

•Panchayat Committee

The Panchayat committee consists of all the members elected under provisions of the Panchayat Raj Act from the wards. This Committee would function as a body corporate known by the name of the “Panchayat”. In the towns, it is the Municipal Council and in cities, it is the Municipal Corporation Council.

•Steering Committee

The steering committee consists of President, Vice President and Standing Committee Chairpersons with President as the Chairperson. The steering committee monitors and coordinates the activities of the standing committees.

•Standing Committees

Standing Committees are committees constituted under the provision of Panchayat Raj/Municipality Act. The members of Standing Committees elected from among the elected members of the concerned Local Government itself. The Chairpersons of Standing committees are elected from among the members of the concerned standing Committee.

Sl. No.	Local Government	Standing Committees
1.	Grama Panchayat and Block Panchayat	1. Finance, 2. Development, 3. Welfare 4. Health and education
2.	District Panchayath	1. Finance, 2. Development, 3. Public works, 4. Health and education , 5. Welfare
3.	Municipality	1. Finance, 2. Development, 3. Welfare, 4. Health, 5.Public works, and 6. education
4	Municipal Corporation	1. Finance, 2. Development, 3. Welfare, 4. Health, 5.Public works, 6. Town Planning, 7. Tax appeal and education

● Working Committee

Panchayat may constitute working committees relating to agriculture, public Health, Education etc. if necessary. Working committee consists of President of Grama Panchayats elected representatives (not exceeding 4) and others nominated members (not exceeding 4).

● Ward Committees

The Ward Committee consists of the members from the concerned ward and those nominated from the locality by the Panchayat. The Committee studies and reports the specific needs of each ward. Ward member is the President of this Committee.

● Working Group

Working Group is the forum of experts. The Local Governments are mandatory to form working groups in each sector. The Chair Person of a working group is an elected representative and the Convenor is a senior official of the particular sector. There are 7 to 15 experts in the field are the members of the working group. The working groups shall prepare status report of the sector and project ideas. They also have to prepare projects, considering the suggestions of Grama Sabhas.

2.9 Resources of a Local Self Governments

a) Tax revenue

Taxes are statutorily assigned to local bodies and levied by them. Property Tax, Professional Tax, Entertainment Tax are major Tax resources.

b) Non-tax revenue:

Income like rent from properties of the Panchayat like markets, bus stands, shopping complex etc., license fees, fines, income from river sand etc. are the source of non tax revenue

c) Grants:

Grants from centre and state government for various specified purposes- Maintenance grant, General Purpose grant etc.

d) Loans and Advances:

Local governments can borrow loans and advances government and non government agencies and other financial institutions for specific purposes with the permission form state government.

2.10 Funds for Development Activities

When participatory planning was launched in the beginning of the IX Five Year Plan in 1997 the Government of Kerala devolved approximately one third of its development funds to local governments, based on certain norms. Since then, there has been a gradual increase in the grant in aid received from the State Government by the local government. The major funds getting from State government are development fund, Maintenance fund, general purpose grant and funds of state sponsored schemes. In addition to these, funds of centrally sponsored schemes are also getting to the local self governments. All these are the major resources of plan fund of Local Government. Own fund, that means the revenue surplus of the Local Government, is also a resource for their plans. Local Self Government are preparing and implementing plans from 1997-98 onwards. The major part of the plan outlay of Local Governments is filled by the funds or Grants received from State Government.

Details of funds allocated to Local Self-Government Institutions, is given every year in Appendix-IV of the State Budget. The amount is calculated based on a comprehensive formula. The three main categories of funds included in it are for:

- a) Development expenditure
- b) Maintenance of assets
- c) Traditional Functions (General Purpose Fund)

2.11 Office and Administration

The Panchayat is administered by the elected body (Committee) and the President is endorsed with powers of the Committee. There are four standing committees in the Panchayat to advice and assist the Grama Panchayat committee for effective functioning of the Panchayat. Panchayath office is the secretariat of the Panchayat and is functioning in their own building. The head of office is the Secretary. The Panchayat administrative affairs are managed by the Secretary and assisted by different wing of staff including transferred institutions. All the staff is under the supervision and control of the Committee. E- Governance system is adopted in the panchayat and a front office counter is maintained to provide friendly and time bound service to people. Citizen's Charter is published every year and service charter of local government will be exhibited in front of the office.

There are different types of audits to verify the Administrative procedures, accounts, procedures and delegation of powers etc. Performance Audit, Local Fund Audit, Account General Audit and Social Audit are the major audits. Local Plan Implementations are put to the scrutiny of Monitoring Committees. The transferred institutions are monitored through Review Meetings and Management Committees with the participation of people.

2.12 Participatory Structures and Community Management

The Local Governments can utilize the possibilities of the Democratic Participatory Structures to enhance peoples participation, to improve the quality and effectiveness of administration and to make the governance system more transparent. Grama Sabha is the formal participatory structure and it is the part of Local Administrative System. Besides Grama sabhas, Hospital Management Committees, Anganwadi welfare committees, Parent-Teachers Associations, Padasekkara Committee (Farmers Committees) Health and Sanitation Committees, Cultural Social Organisations, Kudumbasree and other Community Based Organisations are helpful to improve Local Governance system. The involvement of these democratic organisations lead to an effective community Management in Local Governance and Service delivery.

2.13 Good governance and Complaint Redressal System.

In the democratic system, the Governance is for the people and it should be governed by people. In addition to Department level complaint redressal mechanism, Ombudsman and Tribunal for Local Governments were an effective system for complaint redressal. Citizen Charter, Right to information, Right to Service, E-governance and people friendly administration etc are the ways and means of ensuring good governance in local government system.

2.14 Local Plan

All Local governments in the State are preparing and implementing their own plans for Local Economic Development and social justice .The local planning process is in accordance with the guidelines issued by the State Government. The local planning process is participatory and is transparent in manner. Importance is given to the 'Voice and Choice' of the people. The resource of the local plan consists of funds given by state government, own resources of local government, state and centrally sponsored scheme funds, loans, and other sources of funds. The major portion of the outlay of local plan is the funds given by the State government. The local governments have the freedom to allocate the funds according to their priorities. The working groups have a pivotal role in preparing the Local plan.

2.15 Training and Empowerment

After one and half decade of decentralisation the panchayat is able to prepare local economic development plan taking into consideration of the needs and demands raised by people. The local leaders were capacitated with continuous short term and long term trainings in different areas such as local planning, leadership, standing committee functions, Good Governance etc,. Trainings are regularly imparted to elected members, officials, working group members and even grama sabha members. These trainings are conducted suitably by KILA,IMG,SIRD&ETC. The development of capacity of elected members has been enabled them to exercise delegated powers vested with them and could take part effectively in decision making process.

2.16 Transferred Institutions and Officials

While devolving functions to Panchayat the institutions and officials to perform those functions were also transferred to them. Agriculture offices, Health institutions, Anganwadi, Schools etc. were transferred to local governments as part of decentralisation of powers. Such Institution belong to Panchayat and its officers and staff are under the control of Panchayat committee. They have to perform the duties assigned them by their departments also.

2.17 District Planning Committee (DPC)

The institution of District Planning Committee as envisaged in the 73rd Constitution Amendment Act (73rd CAA) is the realisation of consistent and conscious effort towards decentralised planning since the process of planned development began in the country. CAA mandated the establishment of District Planning Committee (DPC) as the formal body for preparation of the District Development Plan by consolidating the plans prepared by the villages and towns in the district(Article 243ZD of the 74th CAA). All states accordingly enacted legislations for constitution of the DPCs and issued notifications bringing them into effect.

Composition of DPCs

The DPC is generally composed of elected members of the local bodies within the district, both rural and urban, as well as some nominated members. The number of members varies with the population size of the districts. The ratio of members from Panchayats and ULBs is based on the ratio in which the population of the district is divided between rural and urban areas.

An examination of the composition of the DPCs is vital from two perspectives:

- It reflects the degree of inclusion of marginalised sections in the district planning process;
- It reflects the degree to which the DPC is actually a body independent of state control and interference.

DPC consist of 15 members, provided that fifty percent of the members to be elcted shall be women and two members belonging to Scheduled Caste or Scheduled tribe and among them one shall be women

1. 12 elected members-from among the elected members of panchayath and municipalities in the district
2. The president of the District Panchayath in that District
3. One person having considerable experience in administration and planning nominated by the government
4. Members of parliament and legislative assemblies in the district are permanent invitees in the committee
5. President of the District Panchayath shall be the chairman of the committee.
6. The District Collector shall be the secretary of the committee.
7. The district level officers of the departments of the government in the district shall be joint secretaries of the committee

2.18. Impact of Decentralization and Delegation of Powers

It has to be noted that the Kerala model of decentralization is a home-grown process organically emerging from the administrative, developmental and socio political context of the State and the country. After a period of intense experimentation followed by correction and stabilization, the decentralization initiatives have reached the institutionalization stage. Across four changes of Government and in spite of terrible fiscal stress, the State showed unwavering commitment in strengthening the foundation for democratic decentralization. The State can now claim that it has developed a viable and replicable model which other States in the country can adapt - in administrative decentralization, fiscal decentralization, participatory planning, setting up supporting institutions for local governance, linking Local Governments with experts, professionals, activists and community based organizations and so on. What has been achieved is far beyond a successful project or even a best practice.

OUR RESPONSIBILITIES TO CHILDREN(ORC)

‘Our Responsibility to Children’ (ORC) is a unique social experiment initiated in Kerala in 2010, to create a safe, nurturing, and just environment wherein vulnerable children involved, or at risk of getting involved, in harmful behaviour are brought to the mainstream, equipped and empowered with life skills, appropriate support, and knowledge to realize their full potential and become productive members of society. Over the past few years, ORC has dynamically proved that it is possible to address the issues of our children through a multisector approach involving various government agencies and civil society. This social experiment has been successful in:

ORC ENSURES:

*....Our children develop and flourish in a protective and safe environment;
....Potential young offenders are identified in a timely manner and their problems are scientifically addressed;
....Families are strengthened and our children are not left unattended to get enmeshed in a criminal life that harms them and society; and
....Our children are never again the targets for recruitment by anti-social and terrorist organisations.*

- Mentoring, and advocating on behalf of, young offenders in the juvenile justice system;
- Preventing youth from indulging in deviant behaviour and anti-social activities; and
- Diverting youth at risk into constructive activities and better opportunities;

Drawing from the experience of ORC experiments in different cities of the State, the Government of Kerala has decided to integrate ORC into its Integrated Child Protection Scheme (ICPS). ORC will become a key component of ICPS and will be implemented as a joint initiative of the Departments of Education, Social Justice, Health, Home, and Local Self Government in collaboration with like-minded civil society organizations and individuals. Under the overall umbrella of ICPS, ORC will strengthen its operations and mainstream its activities through schools in Kerala.
