KILA

Kerala Institute of Local Administration (KILA) was established in 1990 under the initiative of the Department of Local Self Government, Government of Kerala. The Institute was initially set up with the corpus funds contributed by the Local Self Governments of Kerala. Undertaking training, research, documentation, consultancy and policy advocacy have been the objectives of the KILA. The Institute has the mandate to train elected representatives, officials and other stakeholders of decentralized planning and local governance. KILA is carrying out a wide range of programmes funded by agencies like Swiss Agency for Development Co-operation, UNDP, UN-HABITAT, World Bank, UNICEF, etc. It is the declared goal of KILA to play a significant role at national and international level to promote the cause of local governance. KILA offers courses in Kerala's decentralization in regional languages of India. This is primarily to meet the training needs of the participants from other Indian states. With this purpose, KILA has translated several documents into English and other languages like Hindi, Tamil, Bengali and Kannada. KILA is also conducting international courses on local governance.
