KILA

Kerala Institute of Local Administration (KILA) was established in 1990 under the initiative of the Department of Local Self Government, Government of Kerala. The Institute was initially set up with the corpus funds contributed by the Local Governments of Kerala. Undertaking training, research, documentation, consultancy and policy advocacy are the objectives of the KILA. The Institute has the mandate to train elected representatives, officials, and other stakeholders of local governance and participatory planning. KILA is carrying out a wide range of programmes funded by State Government. KILA is also supported by agencies like Swiss Agency for Development & Co-operation, UNDP, UN-HABITAT, World Bank, UNICEF, NFI etc. It is the goal of KILA to play a significant role at national and international level to promote local governance. KILA offers courses in Kerala's decentralization in regional languages of India. This is primarily to meet the training needs of the participants from other Indian states. In this view, KILA has translated several documents into English and other languages like Hindi, Tamil, Bengali and Kannada. KILA is also conducting international courses on local governance.
